

Academic Affairs – Aubrey Chipman (VP protemp)

- Contacting Mike Gosz about public course evaluations
 - Other schools publish such information in a book, on a site, when choosing classes (as on Web for Students)
- Contacting Dr. Ireland of Social Sciences Dept to see about offering language classes
 - Could be taken @ Shimer (interest-based classes), @ nearby community college, via Internet... something!
- Rosetta Stone Software – Tech News! ++ More computer labs
 - We have spiffy new software, but only on two computers in Galvin? Why? And not too many people even know of it!
- Eric Brey regarding the Office of Undergraduate Research
 - There was a huge turnout last time he offered a meeting about this. How is it going this semester? Up and running?
- Eta Kappa Nu and SWE advising sessions
 - Professional/ honor societies offered advising before. Are they going to again later in the semester and would they want to team up?
- Prof. Stuart about having an economics minor
 - There are 3 economics classes and it takes 5 to get a minor. Can more be added/ altered in curriculum to count as economics?
- Posting TA and Professor Office Hours – Vickie Tolbert
 - Wouldn't it be good to have these placed somewhere all together? On the dept. website, a different page altogether... something.
- Journal of Undergraduate Research – up and running?
 - Can students place the research they've been involved in there yet to be looked over?
- Mike Gosz – deadline for professors to change course times
 - It's not fair to students to allow professors to change course times past a certain date when schedules have been arranged to fit perfectly. Saagar has talked to Mike Gosz and this is changing already!
